// Please try to roleplay with 3+ sentences. However, it is understandable if you don't have much to say.

// No god-modding, power-playing, etc. Your cat will get wounds, get sick, and will eventually die.

// Try and be as active as possible. Not commenting on the roleplay for two weeks will result in a warning. If you still don't roleplay, you will be removed from the allegiances.

// Please notify me if you're going away, changing your username, getting grounded, etc.

// Your character cannot start off by being disabled -- that means no blind cats, deaf cats, cats with twisted legs, etc. Nothing that would make it hard/impossible to fulfill warrior duties.

// Your cat may have scars.

// Don't sign-up with a Mary-Sue character. No odd pelt colors/eye colors/names/personalities.

// No one may use the same prefix. This is to avoid confusion and arguments over who should have the name.

// No chain comments for roleplaying. This is when you reply to someone on the comments and don't stay on the main page.

// I don't accept pictures of the cat in your form - you must describe them to me.

// Wait for me to accept you before you begin roleplaying. Please note that I do have a life, so you don't need to tag me every 30 minutes if I haven't given you the okay. I'll see it.

// The code is FoxMulder

// When roleplaying, please try to stay in character. Don't allow your own emotions to change your cat. Also make sure that your cat doesn't hate another character specifically because you are annoyed/angry with the admin.

// Don't make major unnecessary drama, like a fox attacking, a flood, etc that hasn't been given an okay from me. Small border skirmishes are alright, though. In addition, please don't make any prophecies that I haven't allowed!

// Your cat may not have any powers, and may not be reincarnated in any way.

// Don't mate on the roleplay. Take it to PM if you're really that desperate.

// If your cat has kits, you can have up to four. You can choose for these kits to be NPC (non-playable-characters) or you can PM me and let me hold tryouts for the kits and you and your mate will choose who you want to be the kit's roleplayer. This will be easier because if signups are closed, people will be able to tryout for the kits and if they get the kit, they'll be able to join.

// You may not join as a kit. You also may not join as a mother expecting kits/a mother that has a kit.

// A queen's pregnancy is about two moons, so it would take about two weeks for your character to give birth.

// Time in the roleplay passes like this:
Real Time || RP Time
One Day || One week
Three Days || Two weeks
Five Days || Three weeks
One Week || One moon

EchoClan Territory & Info

[image]

(I'm not an artist, so my apologies if the map is not spot-on. XD)

EchoClan's camp is in the heart of a deep pine forest. The camp is open with the sun shining down on the grassy ground below the cats' paws. The dens are made out of clay with a pale orangey–brown color. The leader's den is inside of a huge tree. He or she calls Clan meetings on a tall branch on the tree they call the High Branch.

Two overlapping trees cover the entry, and the camp is surrounded by hard rock. There is a river that runs near the camp, giving the cats easy access to fish in every season besides leafbare. In the bottom right corner of the territory there is a sandy-covered area of rocks that some cats go to hunt or bask on called the Blazing Stones. There's not a huge risk of snakes here, so it's (usually) safe until greenleaf, when the adders sometimes come out to the warmth.

The trees shield the cats from rain, so if it ever does rain, they mostly stay dry. In the camp, however, the cats retreat to the dens if it rains.

The border of the territory ends at the Thunderpath. The other borders are farther out of the map, but the left border ends a few tree-lengths past the river. The other borders are not shown but end farther out of the map.

Their is a bridge the monsters go across to get across the river. Past the Thunderpath is a field of rolling hills and few trees, and this is also where the Moontunnels lay (keep reading to see what the Moontunnels are).

EchoClan cats usually hunt mice, squirrels, fish, voles, water voles, small birds, shrews, and water shrews.

Their predators are alligators/crocodiles (which rarely appear in the river), beavers (which also rarely appear in the river), owls, adders, dogs, foxes, badgers, monsters, rats, raccoons, and rarely vultures or other large birds. Larger cats like bobcats can also pose as a threat. Twolegs rarely appear in the territory, but if so, the cats steer away from the strange creatures.

When leaders go to gain nine lives or when the medicine cats go to communicate with SpiritClan (StarClan but instead called SpiritClan), they travel to the Moontunnels, a confusing set of underground paths that eventually leads to a glimmering pool full of light.

Although it's not shown, the Twolwgplace is located to the right of the Blazing Rocks, so farther out east of the map.

Form | CLOSED

// Please begin rping on Roleplay 6! //

Forms will not be open again.

Remember that you can have only two cats! You cannot have your two cats be mates, but they may be related.

Also remember that your character may not start out with kits, and you may not start out as a kit either.

Lastly, I will decline any sign-ups that are unreasonable/don't complete the form/show that you are not literate.

Here is my character's sign-up, who is the leader.

Name: Waspstar
Gender: Tom
Sexuality: Bisexual
Age: 47 moons
Ranking: Leader

Appearance: A russet–furred tom with ginger flecks and stark white paws. He has a white muzzle and a fluffy tail and long fur. He doesn't have much muscle, and is actually quite small. His tail, which is very bushy, curls and points at the end, resembling a wasp's tail (hence his name). Waspstar has yellow-green eyes.
Personality: Waspstar is an intelligent, stubborn, and loyal cat. However, he also has a short temper, and lashes out at any cat when he's upset, angry, or in deep thought. Waspstar is strong-willed, determined, and strict, not giving any chances to cats that have betrayed him or broken the warrior code. He feels that he can't become too close or rely on any cat, since it makes him feel weak. His ambition may drive him to do dangerous things, such as going off on his own or performing a risky task.
Kin: Snakeleap (brother)
Activity: 8-9
Roleplay Example: Waspstar's muscles bunched as he landed atop the mouse. It wailed in terror, but the russet-furred tom killed it before it could make any more noise. He smiled in triumph, picking up the mouse and turning, heading back to camp. His tail waved in the air as he entered camp, eyes flickering from side to side of the rocky clearing before depositing the furry mammal on the fresh-kill-pile. Waspstar padded to the huge tree in their camp and slithered up the trunk, perching upon the High Branch. He let out a content sigh and curled his pointed tail around his paws, watching EchoClan with sharp eyes.
Would You Want An Apprentice?: nah
Other: None

And then my other character, who is a rogue. (It used to be a cat named Hamilton, but I've changed the character now.)

Name: Archangel
Gender: Tom
Sexuality: Straight
Age: 34 moons
Ranking: Rogue
Appearance: White tom with ragged fur and golden flecks in his fur. He has brilliant golden eyes flecked with green. His tail is bushy and his frame is large and strong. His muscles are easily seen rippling beneath his pelt, his legs strong enough to leap him into the branches of trees.

Personality: Archangel's personality is a mystery to most. When you first meet him, he's very chatty and gullible, and most drop their threat to him. Over time, however, he can develop violent behavior and manipulate his friends very easily just to get what he wants. He holds a dominant behavior over others and is very controlling, and prefers to travel alone rather than to with others.
Kin: Unknown.
Activity: Above.
Roleplay Example: Above.
Would You Want An Apprentice?: Not a Clan cat
Other: None.

ECHOCLAN

Leader

Waspstar | russet–furred tom with ginger flecks and stark white paws. He has a white muzzle and a fluffy tail and long fur. He doesn't have much muscle, and is actually quite small. His tail, which is very bushy, curls and points at the end, resembling a wasp's tail (hence his name). Waspstar has yellow-green eyes

Deputy

Snakeleap | large orange tom with light and dark brown spots, a dark brown chest and belly, brown and light brown spotted tail, brown back leg with a light brown paw, dark brown eye spot, and gray eyes
{ colored_rainbows }

Medicine Cat

Minktalon | brown-and-orange patched tabby she-cat. She has long, rounded paws with hooked, crescent-shaped claws. Her face is round, her cheeks and ear-tips tufted. Her tail is shorter than most and fluffy compared to the rest of her thin pelt. Her eyes are round as well, a deep copper tint to it. She has a small scar on her back right leg where the fur parts
{ UntoldTa1es }

Medicine Cat Apprentice

Slap | slightly dark brown tabby tom with freckles of hazel on his cheeks and back. Short fur and bright blue eyes
{ Peltyriver507 }

Warriors {3 3}

Galestorm (formerly Timber) | light gray tom with darker gray paws, ears, a darker gray muzzle, with a white chest and underbelly with green eyes
{ GalestormWC- }
Apprentice, Eveningpaw

Swiftspeck | black, brown, and white splotched tom with amber eyes. He has a scar running across his left shoulder, and his left ear is also torn
{ -OwlFeather- }
Apprentice, Barkpaw

Applefall | light brown tom with light green eyes
{ KatsTie }

Logwater | brown tabby tom with white socks and a white chest. He has green eyes
{ ActualShipwreck } Apprentice, Daypaw

Twistedmoon | massive dark gray she-cat with a very muscular body. She has a light gray underbelly and black spots on her sides, and her pelt is medium-sized and fluffy. Her chest fur is always spiky for some reason. She has a long fluffy tail along with a scar running down her left shoulder that twists to her lower back. Both of her ears are nicked. Her face is slender and structured, making her look pretty; she has sharp claws and canines. Her claws are long, and are regularly sharpened
{ Shadesoul }
Apprentice, Breezepaw

Sorrelfire | white she-cat with a few spots of brown on her paws, face, back, and tail. She also has green eyes
{ xXAnimeWarriorXx }

Chirpbark (formerly Lee) | skinny brown tom with black tufts of fur near his head and around his back. He has black-tipped ears and socks, as well as a long tail. His yellow eyes are the brightest thing to him. He wears a torn, faded-blue kittypet collar around his neck
{ Peltyriver507 }

{ WarriorFever } Apprentice, Nightpaw

Swanheart | fluffy white she-cat with amber eyes. She has light gray socks and large white ears
{ SnowstormWarrior } Apprentice, Morningpaw

Sunshadow | tall, dirty pale ginger tabby tom. He has emerald-green eyes as well as ruffled fur that he rarely grooms. His tabby stripes are almost like a dark ginger or light brown, and his ears are perched up and quite long
{ Breezepath }

{ singing_bubble }

Birdcry | light brown she-cat with short and sleek fur. Darker brown dapples adorn her back, the top of her head, and her tail. Her stature is small and wiry, and she has long legs as well. Her tail is longer than average, and her face is usually set in an expression that looks rather distant. The most eye-catching thing about her is her eyes; they are a brilliant blue that stand out against her plainer fur coloring

{ animallove299 }

Fox | russet-furred tom with a bushy pelt and black legs. This tom sometimes looks like a smaller version of his namesake. His tail is bushy, tipped back, and he has pale green eyes. His ears are unusually large, but beyond that, he looks normal. He's an average height and weight for his age, and his legs are also muscular. He has a scar running across his right shoulder (former rogue)
{ animallove299 }

Whiteclaw | giant, large black tom with huge yellow eyes. He also has one white claw
{ Red_Warrior_Cats }

ROGUES {7}

Archangel | white tom with ragged fur and golden flecks in his fur. He has brilliant golden eyes flecked with green. His tail is bushy and his frame is large and strong. His muscles are easily seen rippling beneath his pelt, his legs strong enough to leap him into the branches of trees. A scar reaches from Archangel's ear all the way across his face, traveling down his eyes and muzzle, to his chin. His right ear is torn in half, and another large scar laces his shoulder and reaches down to his underbelly.

Shadowfire | black-and-white Turkish Van with dark brown eyes – former EchoClan warrior
{ KaiAishi }

Shadefur | semi-large, long-limbed, semi-fluffy charcoal-furred she-cat with striking golden-amber eyes – former EchoClan warrior
{ AnimeWarriorLover }

Wren | dusty gray-brown tom with one yellow eye and one green eye with a white patch on his muzzle
{ -OwlFeather- }

Blair | unusually large, thick-furred, dark brown tabby she-cat. She has a bit of white on her muzzle and underbelly. She has a pale brown undercoat and underbelly, along with pretty blue eyes. Her face is a bit round but her features are sharp, giving her an appealing look. Her shoulders are broad and her paws are very large with sharp, big, hooked claws. She has a dull, torn, black collar on with a silver piece of twoleg material that has the word 'Ellie' on it
{ UntoldTa1es }

Stag | large, heavily-built tan tabby she-cat with a bit of white on her chest, underbelly, and muzzle. Her eyes are a piercing green, and she has scars on her neck and flank

// This roleplay part is CLOSED ! Please no longer roleplay on here, or your comment will be deleted.

| Plot |

Week One:
EchoClan has begun to lose more prey, even though it's the middle of leaf-fall. Cats begin to wonder if it's loners and rogues, or if something bigger is going on . . .

Week Two:
After an apprentice is murdered, the Clan is tense and grieving. The air is getting colder and the cats are still losing more prey. Cats begin to investigate the death of Flickerpaw, but more mysteries are still arising...

Week Three
The Clan is still tense after the death of Flickerpaw, but, nonetheless, is thriving. Waspstar has also begun to pick out cats he believes would be good candidates for deputy. A storm seems to be growing closer to EchoClan as well.

Week Four
After a fire burns down the camp, EchoClan is staying in the forest to wait for the rain to pass. However, several Clanmates are absent, and where they currently are is a mystery.

| Plot |

Week One:
After Applefall is exiled, the Clan is tense and paranoid. Not only is their leader highly unstable, but many of their Clanmates have been murdered. What is there to do in this time of hardship?

Aside from that, Leafbare is soon to arrive, and prey seems to be running low. It looks like it's going to be a very cold winter this year.

(please don't make me write the rest I'm a procrastinator)

| Clan News |
– Snakeleap has become deputy!
– Lilybark has become medicine cat!

| Weather and Season |
Late Leaf-fall
50 degrees Fahrenheit

| Plot |

Week One:
Threats are rising outside of the territory. There are cats that want to destroy EchoClan; to take over the forest they know and love. However, little is known about this planned destruction. EchoClan only has two leads; a rogue they've imprisoned and a mysterious cat named Archangel. But with their leader missing, and rules being broken inside the Clan, will they be able to defend their precious home?

Week Two
Lilybark has died, and Waspstar is still missing. However, Minktalon is now the medicine cat, Slap as her apprentice. Things have been peaceful; kits are growing and new apprentices are on the way to becoming noble warriors. But how long will this tranquility last?

Week One:
EchoClan has been peaceful. Things are slowing down, and it seems as if life is back to normal. Everything is how it used to be.

However, this serenity might not last for much longer. A previous enemy has returned -- one most forgot about. And now that he's allied with Shadowfire, will peace ever fall upon EchoClan again?

Week Two
Snakeleap has been taken over by something. Something that is trying to kill EchoClan - but why? Only a few cats know this, but the ones that do are trying to take action before it's too late.

Things with Shadowfire have been peaceful as well. However, tranquility never seems to stick with EchoClan - with the knowledge of an upcoming battle, and an oddly quiet Shadowfire and Archangel, things are sure to take a turn. But how soon will that begin?

| Clan News |
– Ivybreeze has had two kits and is in a coma.
– Lee has been chosen as the temporary deputy while the entity possessing Snakeleap has been tricked to stay away from the Clan.

Soul-Stealers Information | BATTLE-IMPORTANT

Hey all! The battle is beginning soon, and you know it's being led by Archangel and Shadowfire; however, what no one else knows is Archangel's secret weapon. A weapon so lethal it could wipe out an entire Clan.

The Soul-Stealers.

Soul-Stealers are pitch black, large, demon-like cats with glowing red eyes. They have long, black claws, and sharp teeth made for killing. The average size of one is about 2x the size of a large cat; that's big. The color of their eyes shows how powerful they are; dimmer, paler reds mean they're weaker, normal-colored reds mean they're in the middle, and vibrant, glowing reds mean they're stronger. They have no way of speaking, but use a power to talk in cat's minds (only the ones they're battling, though), to either taunt them or make them use their soul more when fighting.

They're powerful and dangerous, their blows sending cats flying back. Their claws are so sharp they dig into skin on impact, making it much harder to attack them.

Soul-Stealers feed off of souls, just like their name implies. If they sink their teeth deep enough into a cat, they begin sucking out their soul; it pains the cat being attacked so much it feels like their insides are being ripped out. When Soul-Stealers finish off their prey, they turn pale and hollow, as if everything inside of them had been sucked out.

Soul-Stealers feed off of these souls like cats feed off of mice and birds. The more souls they gather, the stronger they get. They respond to Archangel and Archangel only, who they look upon as their king.

The only way to kill a Soul-Stealer is to use your own soul against them. Remember those you love that have died; bring back old memories; fight with passion. That is the only way to kill one of these creatures. But it's not easy to do this. You can't think about trying to use your soul; you just have to get to that point where you can wipe out many at a time.

So these are what you'll be fighting in the roleplay, along with Shadowfire, her gang, and Archangel.

Here's some extra info/rules you also need to read:

• If you want your character to die and you have a Soul-Stealer kill them, then you can play up to three Soul-Stealers after their death; you may attack other cats and try and defeat EchoClan. This is optional, of course, but it would help move the battle forward.

• When you fight a Soul-Stealer, you can only control that one until kill it. But again, if that same one kills you, go on controlling it.

• Remember that these cats are super powerful, so you can't kill 'em in a few blows. Don't god-mod and be super OP. Let your cat get battle scars, and let your cat shed a little blood.

• Also remember that when playing Soul-Stealers, these are ruthless demons who only listen to Archangel. These cats don't have separate personalities; they aren't shy, they aren't forgiving, they aren't sweet and kind. They'll kill you on sight. Just remember this, please!

• This battle will probably go on for at least a day or more, so don't be worried if you miss some fighting parts. You'll be able to jump in.

• Dead cats may battle, too! But only ones that have died in the previous roleplay parts. Soul-Stealers do the same damage to SpiritClan cats as they do to normal ones.

I think that's it! If you have any questions, comments, cries of despair, go ahead and tell me ((((((((((;

Duskpaw Tryouts | CLOSED

DUSKPAW son of Pale

Name // Duskpaw
Age // 6 moons
Gender // Tom
Appearance // Brown tabby tom with two black stripes under both eyes. He has a white muzzle and chest, white socks, and yellow eyes.
Siblings // Snowpaw (sister) || Rosepaw (sister)
Parents // Pale (mother) || Unknown father
Mentor // None yet

FORM

// Why do you want to play Duskpaw?
// Activity level
// Roleplay example

RULES

// You get to make Duskpaw's personality however you want!

// The mother of Duskpaw picks who the roleplayer is, so try and be as thorough as possible!

// People inside EchoClan or out can try out for him. However, members of EchoClan with 3 characters may not. Only those with 1-2.

// Please don't get angry if you don't get chosen!

And I believe that's it! Comment if you're interested, and someone will be chosen by tomorrow! Thanks everyone!

((the previous roleplayer became inactive, so Duskpaw is being re-opened to be tried out for))

ECHOCLAN WIKIA

(The link for the wiki is in my bio)

HEY EVERYONE!

oKay I just wanted to tell you all I'm making a wiki for EchoClan! Well, it's already made, but cats are slowly being added on there. Anyone can edit their own cat, too! You gotta create an account (but that's not hard).

So, right now, if everyone could give me a quote from their kitty that'd be awesome. I'm making the main-bios for the characters, so that's why I need it. Older members, go back into earlier roleplays and find a memorable quote! Newer roleplayers, either use a recent quote your cat has said or make one up. (Unless you're a kit, then you don't need a quote).

When you see your cat listed below, just comment on their name(s).

Snakeleap • Sparrowblaze

Blood Moon - Posted

The sequel has been posted, just so everyone knows!

EchoClan Memories

Flickerpaw
@Kitty_Nova2016
Death Date: December 5, 2016
Cause of Death: Murdered by an unknown cat

Memories. I made a list back in December of every cat that had died but realized ehhhhh that's gonna be hard and deleted it (but kept Flickerpaw) because it seemed like someone died every day (and that was back when people were leaving so I killed off their cats). Yeah. That was fun. EchoClan was so small too lmao.

Anyway, we should share memories of early/old EchoClan because I already miss it even tho there's a sequel.
